

6516205678.txt

I can't believe this gag-order is even being considered. What happened to free speech - especially the non-profane variety? The luddites have landed, next thing you know cell phones will be banned because they're taking away business from the traditional phone companies.